

The Art Institutes®

Fact Sheet

WHO WE ARE

The Art Institutes (www.artinstitutes.edu) is a system of more than 50 schools located throughout North America and extends back to 1921, when The Art Institute of Pittsburgh opened its doors. The Art Institutes system of schools provides an important source for design, media arts and culinary professionals. Several institutions included in The Art Institutes schools are campuses of South University or Argosy University.

Each Art Institutes school is licensed by the state in which it is located and accredited by accrediting bodies recognized by the U.S. Department of Education.

The Art Institutes are approved for the training of veterans and eligible veterans' dependents to utilize U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs education benefits and participates in the Yellow Ribbon Program for all eligible Post 9/11 GI Bill® recipients. The Art Institutes system of schools has also signed the Memorandum of Understanding with the Department of Defense (DoD), allowing military members to utilize tuition assistance. We value the service of our military members and veterans and offer institutional scholarships to those eligible.

GI Bill® is a registered trademark of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). More information about education benefits offered by VA is available at the official U.S. government Web site at http://www.benefits.va.gov/GIBILL/Trademark_Terms_of_Use.asp.

WHAT WE DO

The Art Institutes offer associate, bachelor, and master's degree programs as well as certificate and diploma programs. Students pursue their degrees through campuses, fully-online programs through The Art Institute of Pittsburgh - Online Division and blended formats, which combine campus-based and online education.

The Art Institutes focus on applied arts in creative areas such as graphic design, media arts and animation, culinary arts, photography, digital filmmaking and video production, interior design, audio production, fashion design, game art and design, baking and pastry, and fashion marketing. Not all program areas and degree levels are offered at all schools.

The Art Institutes schools offer programs in a variety of formats - including traditional classroom work, online learning and night and weekend programs. In addition, The Art Institutes sponsor a variety of competitions each year focused on fashion design, graphic design, film, and culinary.
